

Sustainability Gallery Rules of participation:

1. Purpose: To promote students' understanding of sustainable issues and how various countries implement sustainable concepts, this event invites students from different countries to share their hometown's sustainable business models and promote this issue to a wider audience.
2. Organizer: College of Technology and Management, National Tsing Hua University.
3. Eligibility: Teams of two or more, including at least one student from CTM
4. Submission deadline: Sunday, May 14, 2023, 11:59:59 PM GMT+8.
5. Submission method: Online submission is accepted. Interested participants can directly submit their entries through the following website:
<https://forms.gle/j3wuqHnMpnzJFu7E9>
6. Submission theme: Sustainable business models that can be integrated with students' hometowns.
7. Submission requirements:
 - Submissions must be in a visual format, such as pictures, photographs, drawings, or posters, and can be created using programs such as Canva or PowerPoint. We recommend using a half-open poster format (751mm*521mm) to avoid distortion when displayed.
 - A 1-2 minute explanatory video (including a self-titled introduction) is required.
 - Written explanations are optional.
8. The Example is referred to the registration form.
9. Exhibition method: Visual submissions will be displayed at the TSMC building at Tsinghua University, and videos will be uploaded to the CTM's YouTube channel.
10. Reward Scheme:
 - a. Participation Award: Each eligible group that meets the requirements for exhibition as evaluated by our organization can receive NTD 500 and a certificate of participation per person.
 - b. Popularity Award: The number of views of the explanatory video on the National Tsing Hua University College of Technology Management YouTube channel will be used as the standard for evaluation, and the number of views will be tallied until 23:59 on May 31, 2023. The top three groups with the highest number of views will be rewarded.
 - i. First place: NTD 10,000 and a certificate of achievement per person
 - ii. Second place: NTD 5,000 and a certificate of achievement per person
 - iii. Third place: NTD 3,000 and a certificate of achievement per person

11. The groups that receive the Popularity Award cannot receive the Participation Award at the same time. In case of a tie in the number of views, the ranking will be determined by order of submission.

12. Winners will be notified by email from the SDGS team. Winners must provide relevant personal information within one week after the announcement to receive the award. Failure to provide the necessary information within the deadline will be considered as a waiver of the award, and no substitutions will be made.

13. Regulations for the work:

- a. All entries must be legal and not infringe upon the rights and interests of others, including personal or entity legal rights.
- b. Each individual or group may submit one or more works. Only one submission is allowed for each work, regardless of whether it is cut, reproduced, or flipped.
- c. The deadline for submission of entries is 23:59:59 GMT+8 on May 14, 2023.
- d. Please fill out the registration form with complete personal information. The eligibility and notification of winners will be based on the personal information submitted, so please fill it out accurately.
- e. All submissions must be made online, including one copy of work and one copy of video work per group. The video work must have a complete title of 100 words or less and be uploaded to the College of Technology Management's YouTube channel.

14. Competition regulations:

- a. The entries should meet the submission requirements and not violate public morals.
- b. Participants retain full copyright and intellectual property rights to their entries when submitted to the organizer, and agree to permanently grant the organizer (which may further grant authorization) the non-commercial use of the winning entries in any form, medium, or technology (including but not limited to use on websites, screensavers, physical or online exhibitions, publications, advertisements, albums, calendars, posters, or any other use deemed appropriate by the organizer), which includes but is not limited to reproduction, adaptation, editing, public broadcasting, public transmission, retransmission, public display, distribution and rental.
- c. If the entries are found to have any of the following circumstances, the organizer will disqualify the participant's entry and revoke the prize, and the participant shall bear the relevant legal responsibility:
 - i. The entries infringe upon the copyrights or portrait rights of others, or are submitted under false names.

- ii. b. The entries contain inappropriate content such as violence, pornography, defamation, violation of public morals, or are unrelated to the theme.
 - iii. c. Violation of the laws and regulations of the Republic of China, etc.
- d. If the entries are found to have any of the following circumstances, the participant will be deemed to have forfeited the competition, and the organizer will not notify them separately:
 - i. Entries that do not meet the theme or format of the event will be deemed forfeited, and the organizer will not notify them separately.
 - ii. Participants should respect the organizer's review opinions and cannot object to the review results. To ensure the quality of the competition, entries that do not meet the organizer's standards will be deemed forfeited.
- e. Participants understand and agree that the personal information provided (including name, phone number, and address, etc.) will be used for the purposes of event contact, announcements, follow-up processing, contact, and record keeping.
- f. Once the winner receives the prize, the organizer will not provide any proof or compensation in case of loss or theft.
- g. Participation in the competition implies acceptance and agreement with all provisions of these regulations. Those who violate these regulations and are found to be true by investigation will have their prize cancelled and must return any prizes already received. The participant shall be solely responsible for any legal liability arising from copyright infringement, which has nothing to do with the organizer.
- h. If participants or their entries violate the rules of this competition or infringe on the rights of others, the organizer reserves the right to pursue legal action for damages. If such actions occur, participants should cooperate with the organizer's investigation, such as by providing original materials or explaining the creation process, to help the organizer verify or clarify the situation and compensate for any damages incurred (including legal fees, litigation costs, and third-party damages). Participants who voluntarily forfeit their eligibility are also subject to these terms.
- i. Disclaimer: Participants in this competition agree to release, waive, and exempt the National Tsing Hua University College of Technology Management and its partners, affiliates, and representatives from any claims, losses, or damages arising from their participation in the competition and any related activities, or from the acceptance, use, misuse, or possession of any competition rewards. The organizer is not responsible for any errors, omissions, interruptions, data deletion or loss, defects, or delays caused by human error or file transmission, line failures, theft, destruction, unauthorized access to entry materials or data, or data alteration. The organizer is also not responsible for any telephone, network, or computer system failures, servers or providers, computer equipment or software issues or technical failures, or email delays or failures caused by network or website issues, human error, or a combination of factors, including damages to the participant's computer equipment caused by their participation in the competition or related activities.

- j. The organizer reserves the right to interpret, modify, or supplement the competition rules, regulations, and prize descriptions at any time. If the competition is unable to proceed due to force majeure, the organizer reserves the right to terminate, modify, or suspend the competition and modify the official rules at any time.
- k. If you have any questions about this competition, please contact the organizer at ctmsdgs@my.nthu.edu.tw.
